

Invitation to workshop

obedience and protection training with

Kim Hechler

28./29.01.2012 , D-77866 Rheinau, Dogsportsclub Honau

Kim Hechler

is a successful instructor, protection helper and judge. His personal achievements as dog handler are: Winner of the swv championship, winner and vice winner of the DMC Championat, participant of the FCI and FMBB World Championship, vice winner of the FMBB World Championship, and

... training Briards!

He also is dog breeder and several FMBB and FCI World Winners come of his kennel "vom Adlerauge".

Having so much success Kim never forgets to enjoy dogs generally. This makes the work with him to a special delicacy. Kim combines fun and joy with seriousness for perfect work in a marvellous way .

Dogs and their owners with any standard of education and any age group are invited to take part. A coloured mix of human-dog-teams would be the best basis for demonstrating how to form a young dog, how to perfect an already educated dog, how to prepare the team for a competition and how to solve problems. New ideas and concepts for education may be developed.

The dog training field is located in the Rhin plane in the south of Germany lying in between Black Forest and the Vosges, nearby Baden-Baden. That lovely region invites you to a brief vacation!

The application fee is 120 Euro with dog and 100 Euro without dog for each person - including lunch on both days.

The lectures will be given in English and German language.
